Storyline. 100,000 people have been poisoned by lead, a lifelong affliction, yet somehow this shocking event has been normalized in the US. "Flint: The Poisoning of an American City" gives voice to the current struggle of city residents and follows the environmental history of the river and how the continued abuse and neglect of city infrastructure and environmental regulations have led to the poisoning of a city.

The Poisoning of America - TIME
Parents need to know that Flint: The Poisoning of an American City is a documentary that tracks events leading up to and following the Flint River's contamination of a city's water supply, and the inaction of government authorities to respond to the crisis. From the 1940s and 1950s, when Flint, Michigan, was a thriving working-class community, through the departure of the automobile industry, which was its lifeblood, to its currently failing infrastructure, the city's decline is a cautionary ...
