The magic lures in 8th edition were absolutely out of control, and IMO one of the worst aspects of the edition. In 6th and 7th, magic was much more muted and acted in a support role for most armies. Obviously you can house rule things however you'd like, but 6th is meant to be played with muted magic and it's a better game for it I think.

Karak Azgal is a background book that is a must for roleplaying offciandos. Karak Azgal was once a rich Dwarf hold, but it fell to the forces of chaos. A dragon moved in, and dug out much of the treasure hidden in the dungeon to form a horde. This dragon was slain, over a thousand years ago by a Dwarf named Skalf. He claimed the treasure, and ownership of Karak Azgal. He realised the hold was too infested to clear out, so he built an enclave above the Hold and set up court there. A city has now grown up, rich from the treasures brought up by adventurers. The dwarfs encourage folk to go down there

They are, in fact being very

Duloboch generous in allowing folk to go down there and bring it back up- why, they might even get to keep 10% of it! That's practically giving it away ; The city setting of Karak Azgal is perfect for Dwarf gags, intrigue and numerous excuses to be sent into the dungeon. It should be richly populated with interesting characters, and
